Our purpose is to inspire businesses towards efficiency

Holtz boost operational efficiency

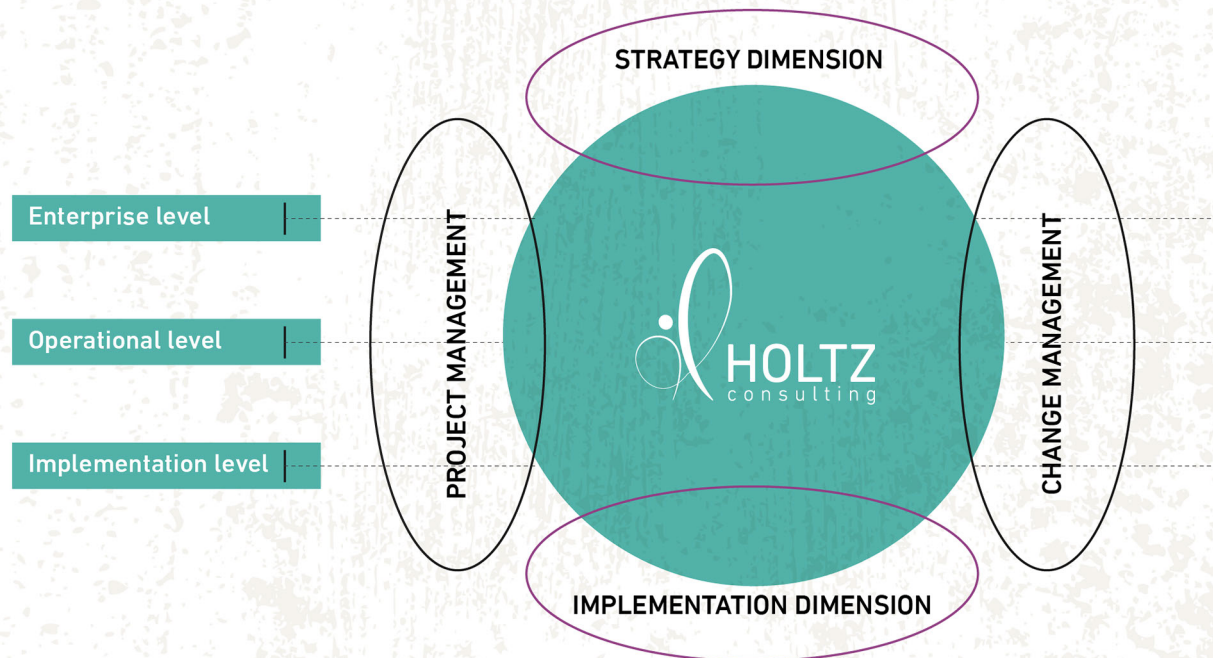

Purpose statement

To inspire efficiency in a dynamic society where business operations are struggling to keep up with the constant changes of the business world. Through innovation and support, Holtz consultants boost operational efficiency by providing trustworthy consulting solutions to current commercial issues. Our experts assist in the development of existing knowledge to enable business operations to adapt to the rapid changes taking place, towards the creation of an effective and calmly composed business environment.

Through the trustworthy consulting solutions

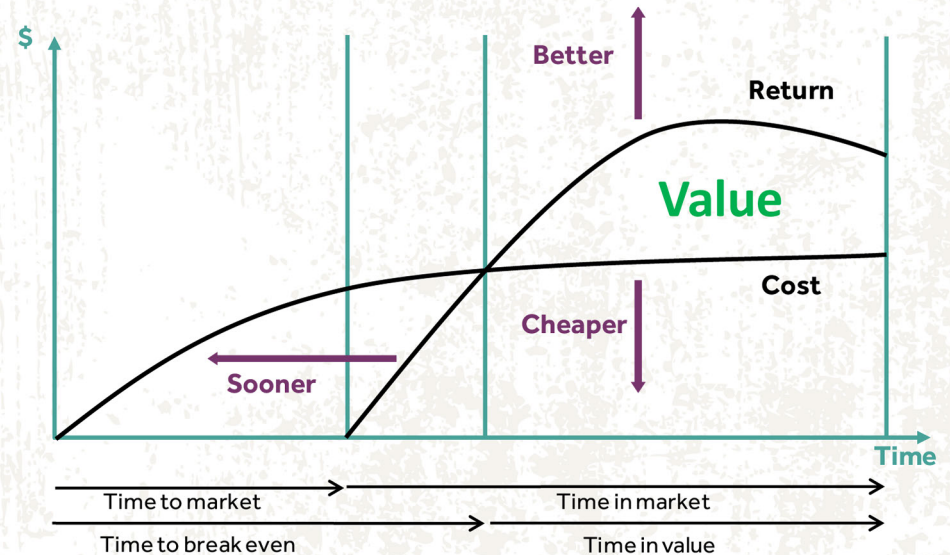

Holtz solutions integrate the strategy dimension with implementation dimension

Towards the creation of a calm environment and an agile operating model

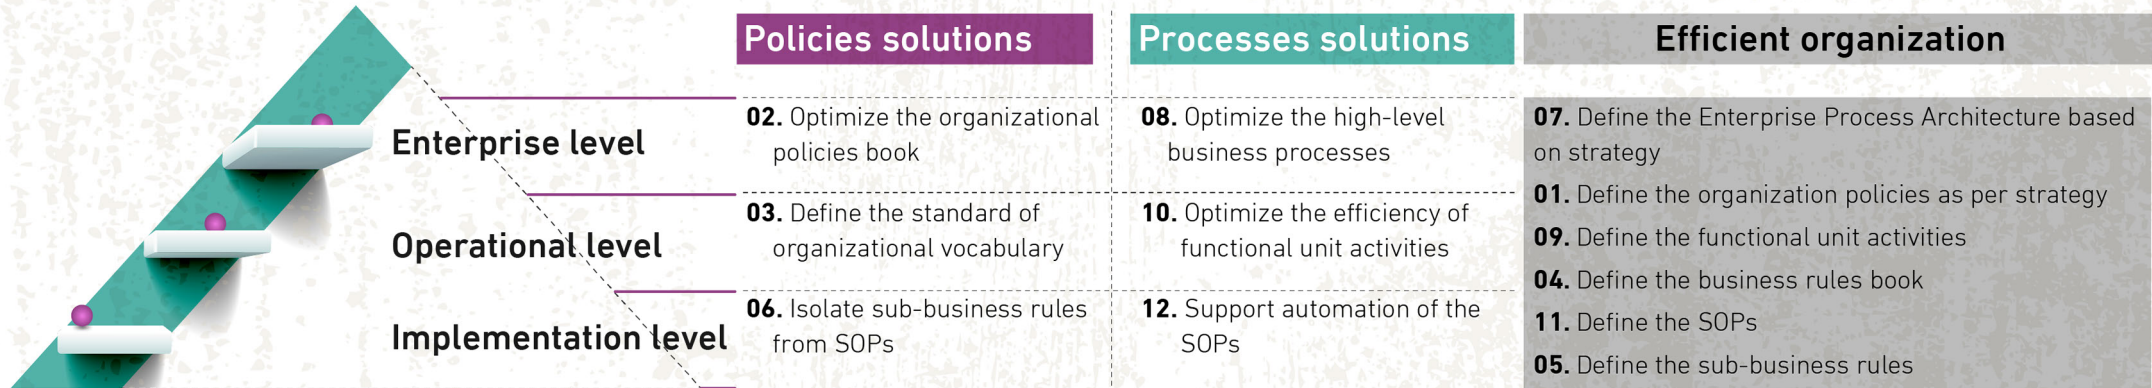

Agile operating model increase value

By inspiring efficiency in business, Holtz consultants strive to create a calm, transparent, and integrated business environment free of issues such as those related to handoffs. Thus, an atmosphere is created which in turn results in an agile operating model allowing an organization to release any new initiatives sooner. Accordingly, the break-even period is then reduced which ultimately generates a better return on investment.

That, helps organizations win well-known awards of excellence

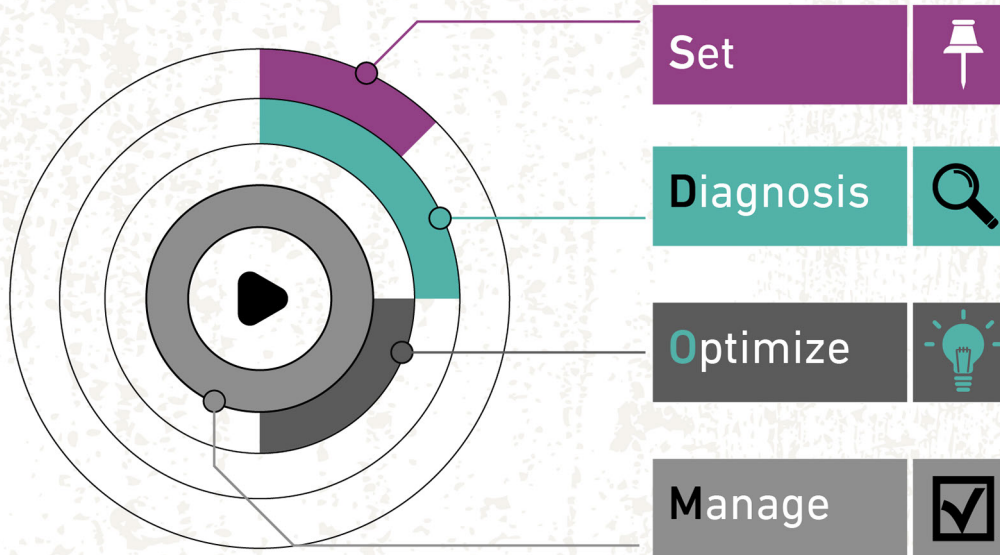

Holtz solutions are aligned with global standards

Holtz consulting uses the methodology of SDOM

SDOM is a result of the wide range of experience

SDOM

This approach was established following analysis of the broad experience our professionals have amassed in the business process and quality field. The SDOM (Set; Diagnose; Optimize; Monitor) methodology, developed by our team at HOLTZ, is based on a closed loop cycle to ensure that any services provided by the company prove to be of value to clients.

SDOM is a closed-loop cycle

Closed-loop cycle guarantee value to client

Set

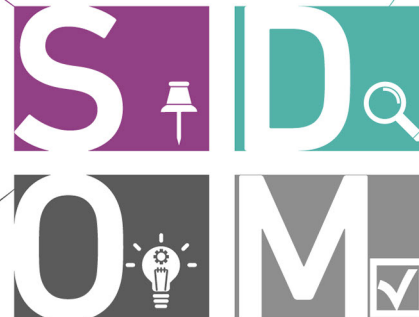

This phase aims to define a holistic view and set the baseline through the following:

- Defining the ecosystem
- Defining the organization diagram
- Measuring the maturity level
- Defining the roadmap and project plan

Optimize

This phase aims to improve daily operations through the following:

- Defining the business process architecture
- Defining the business policies
- Defining the business rules
- Re/designing the business processes

Diagnosis

This phase aims to determine the state of the organization through the following:

- Gathering information and current documents
- Decomposing the organization diagram
- Measuring the efficiency of the processes
- Defining the existing defects
- Defining the quick wins

Manage

This phase will ensure the value of the proposed solution through:

- monitoring the performance of processes
- executing the corrective actions
- establishing the CoE office
- defining the framework of the CoE
- executing knowledge transformation
